

Code of Conduct

May 2020

TrialKit sponsors two separate websites that this Code of Conduct applies to; Closed and secure TrialKit (formerly known as Clinical Studio) website (webapp.trialkit.com - formerly clinicalstudio.com) and the open TrialKit Support Forum (help.trialkit.com).

We want all visitors to our websites to have a safe, interesting and friendly experience. Accordingly, all users of our sites and any content they add to the site must comply with this Code of Conduct. Your use of our websites means that you accept and agree to abide by this Code of Conduct, which supplements and forms part of the Website Terms (which you can access by clicking on the link at the bottom of our websites in the footer area).

We may need to revise the Code of Conduct from time to time by amending this page. Please review this page regularly to ensure you are aware of any changes we make as they are legally binding on you.

If you reasonably believe that any contribution to our websites made by another user contravenes this Code of Conduct and/or any of the Website Terms, please notify us by sending an email to webmaster@crucialdatasolutions.com.

Within this Code of Conduct, “contribution” means any material posted or uploaded to our websites by a member of the public, including without limitation any text, photographs, graphics, video or audio material.

YOUR CONTENT:

- Must be your own original work.
- Must not infringe anyone else’s rights, including copyright. Your contributions must not plagiarize or infringe the rights of any other person including any copyright, database, trade mark, trade secret, privacy, publicity, personal or proprietary rights of any kind.
- Must not contain unlawful or objectionable content nor involve disruptive, offensive or abusive behavior. Material that is unlawful, harassing, threatening, defamatory, obscene, offensive, abusive, hateful, inflammatory, profane, racially, sexually or religiously offensive or otherwise objectionable or unlawful is not acceptable.
- Must not contain unsuitable or irrelevant website addresses or URLs. Links to pornography, commercial or other inappropriate content may be deleted.
- Must not promote illegal or anti-social behavior. Contributions must not contain violent or sexually explicit material or advocate, promote or assist any unlawful act such as (by way of example only) terrorist acts, copyright infringement or computer misuse.

Code of Conduct

May 2020

- Must not misrepresent their origins. Contributions and/or user names may not be used to impersonate any other person, to misrepresent your identity or affiliation with any person or to give the impression that they emanate from us, if that is not the case.
- Must not involve any flooding, spamming or advertising. All advertisements, chain letters, pyramid schemes, junk mail and any other forms of commercial solicitation are prohibited.
